

ELISTA Education is delighted to invite you to our
Closing Conference of the European Project
Animal Integration in Education

22nd, 23rd and 24th June 2017
DUBLIN – PORTLAOISE – CORK

The Animal Integration in Education Project "ZORO" is an international ERASMUS+ project involving organisations from Ireland, Slovenia, Greece, Turkey, Romania, Croatia, Poland and Hungary. The project started in September 2015 and as it approaches its completion we have the pleasure to present and share the knowledge, skills and good practices developed by the participants throughout its duration.

The aim of this project was to create guidelines for teachers and professionals working with and for children about the use and integration of animals to enhance educational experiences and children's well-being.

Professionals working with pupils, especially children with additional needs will find this conference of particular interest, although the conference welcomes parents and organisations with an interest in the subject area.

There are many benefits of Animal Assisted Interactions that aid our physical, psychological, social, emotional and cognitive well-being. Different studies in this subject show that the use and assistance of animals in school environments and within other professional services create positive learning opportunities, including increasing children's attention and concentration, promoting social inclusion and integration, developing co-operation and increasing confidence.

You are invited to find out the outcomes of this innovative project and learn both theory and practice of Animal Integration in Education.

Please find within the attachments the conference agenda and registration form.

We are pleased to offer one complementary ticket per school, additional tickets can be requested. Buffet Lunch/Refreshments included.

We look forward to seeing you at the Conference!
